Sustainable Aviation Fuels
time for take-off

Berta Matas Güell

Berta Matas Güell is a Senior Researcher and Business Developer at SINTEF Energy Research, where she works at the intersection of strategy, stakeholder engagement, and the development of European research and innovation initiatives, with a primary focus on renewable fuels and bioenergy. Her expertise is particularly centred on sustainable aviation fuels and their role in decarbonizing the aviation sector